YEAR 12

SEMESTER 2, 2021 REPORT

Tiley House, Tutor Group TY3

SUBJECT	Place in Course	No in Course	Effort	Grade	Comments
Christian Studies 12CS3B-2 Mr A G Benn	204	216	3	D	Daniel has made reasonable progress in Christian Studies as we have reviewed Christian ethics and examined tough questions about Christianity. He has remained a valued class member due to his continued involvement in classwork and general discussions. Daniel was only let down with a below-par written response, which did not reflect his overall engagement and reflection in class. I hope that Daniel will continue to see the importance of the Christian faith in his own life.
Biology 12BIO7-1 Mr J P Friend	11	32	2	B	Daniel is generally an enthusiastic and interested member of the class, but unfortunately, too many of his responses display superficial knowledge, and consequently, he is unable to attain the marks of which he is capable. He is very able, and some of his knowledge is pleasing, but there are several areas where his understanding needs to improve. He must also practise many written responses to past papers if he hopes to attain a good result in the HSC Examination.
Engineering Studies 12EST4-1 Mr J Straney	5	12	2	A	Daniel has been a pleasure to teach over the past two years. His assessments have displayed his keen eye for detail as he produced several excellent Engineering reports. A decline in motivation and application likely contributed to some poor results in earlier class examination results, which showed a gap in Daniel's understanding of some of the course's theoretical mathematics. However, Daniel has since made a dramatic turnaround, and his Trial HSC Examination result is a testament to this. I hope Daniel remains focused in his study, keeping consistent. I wish him all the best in his ventures after Shore.
English Advanced 12ENA5 Ms T Oud	76	95	2	B	Daniel's application to his studies this term has been commendable. He has heeded advice, sought criticism, and drafted a range of responses. In so doing, he has developed depth in his understanding of the texts being examined and secured results that reflect his ability in Advanced English. He is encouraged to remain motivated and diligent in his final preparation. He needs to ensure he continues practising under time pressure in readiness to model examination conditions. This includes composing whole responses, as well as targeted introductions and body paragraphs. Daniel is wished every success for the future.
Mathematics Ext 1 12ME1-3 Mr A C Holland	61	65	2	C	Advanced: Grade B, Rank 71/92. Daniel is steadily developing his understanding of both courses. He has admirably persisted through challenges and must continue to work hard leading up to the HSC Examination. When practising Advanced past papers, he should focus on not dropping any marks in the earlier questions. This will require greater attention to detail. He has demonstrated a pleasing understanding of several Extension 1 concepts, such as Inverse and Exponential Functions, but many others require further review. He should be more forthcoming in seeking help. I wish Daniel all the best for the HSC Examination and beyond.
PDHPE 12PD6-1 Mr G D Inches	10	81	1	A	Daniel has been a consistently high performer across all aspects of the PDHPE course. Daniel has contributed well and with humour in class, while his preparation for assessments has been thorough for all tasks completed. Daniel's strong result in the Trial HSC Examination reflected his hard work, particularly at home during Distance Learning. This self-discipline towards his study will hold him in good stead as he approaches the final weeks before the HSC Examination. I wish Daniel all the best for his future and am sure his HSC result will reflect his excellent work ethic in PDHPE.

CO-CURRICULAR AND PASTORAL COMMENTS

OTHER COMMENTS (where applicable):

Football 1st XI:

Daniel was our left-sided player who loved to move forward, hunting for any available opportunity to score. He was a player who always gave 100% both at training and on match day, and for this he should be proud, as he was an excellent role model to the younger players in the squad. Daniel will be remembered for his happy disposition, tenacity, and warm-up sessions that kept us all entertained. I hope he continues to play Football into his adult life.

Mr G A Lee | Ms K M Papworth

Daniel has fully embraced all that Shore offers, learning to become a leader within Tiley House. His understanding of what it means to serve the needs of others in preference to his own is evident in his informal conversations with peers and younger members of the Tutor Group, and the genuine care he shows for others around the School. He speaks confidently with younger boys, peers and staff alike, but always takes the time to listen to others and make everyone feel valued in the community. While at Shore, Daniel has invested in developing strong relationships, particularly within the Football and Rowing communities. I encourage him to continue building on these relationships beyond school, as this community will serve as a strong foundation for his future endeavours. Daniel has clearly worked hard to achieve some excellent results across his subjects, and he should be proud of his academic record. Over the coming weeks, Daniel should continue to reflect on the opportunities presented by the Trial HSC Examinations and the comments of his teachers to hone his understanding and examination skills. It has been a pleasure to see Daniel's development over the years into a thoughtful, mature and well-spoken young man, and I wish him every success in the future.

Mr M B Massey

Tutor

It has been my pleasure to oversee Daniel's progress and see how he has matured into a leader characterised by cheerful good grace and generosity. As Captain of Tongs, his first initiative was to organise and run a fundraiser to support a women's shelter, and he took responsibility for this project at each step of the way. His installation as Prefect was thoroughly deserved, and he executed that role with integrity. Moreover, I commend Daniel on his outstanding achievements in his sporting endeavours, including playing for the 1st XI in Football and the 3rd IV in Rowing. Daniel has applied himself with conscientiousness throughout his time at Shore, and I commend him for that. It is now time to dig deep for this last stretch, and I urge him to take his teachers up on their offer to provide help and support leading up to the HSC Examinations. I wish Daniel every happiness and success for his future.
