

Townsville Grammar School

Semester 1, 2022

Lily Cosima Rose Roehr

Year 12H10

English	Ms K Watson
This semester, students engaged with Unit 3: Textual Connections by examining representations of the same concepts and issues in different texts. In doing so, they considered how the textual construction of the same concepts and issues in different texts resonate, relate to, and clash with one another. They first examined issues represented in Four Corners and other media texts which resulted in the development of their own persuasive speech on a contemporary issue of their choice. From there, they examined the concept of war in Steven Galloway's novel The Cellist of Sarajevo and Clint Eastwood's film American Sniper which culminated in an analytical essay for a public audience.

Level of Achievement	VHA	HA	SA	LA	VLA	NR

Approach to Learning

Work Ethic	V
Behaviour	V

To be commended on:

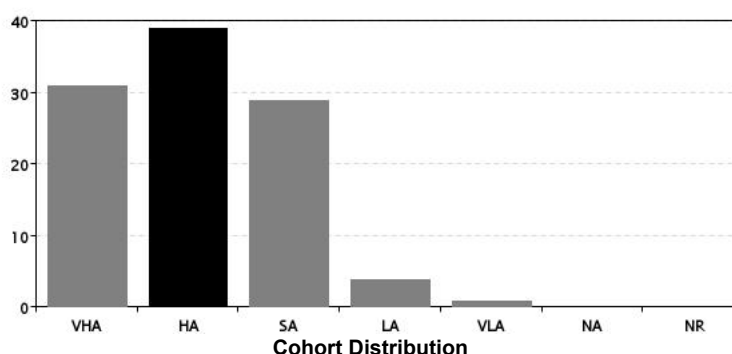

Creating and presenting an engaging and well-developed persuasive speech about a contemporary issue
 Being proactive in seeking help or clarification of task requirements when required
 Working diligently, making effective use of class time

Academic performance could be improved by:

Demonstrating greater independence in completing assessment items
 Formulating a thesis and developing arguments that logically support their position
 Structuring, sequencing and using cohesive devices to emphasise ideas and develop writing
 Implementing a thorough and consistent revision program to consolidate the work done in class

Mathematical Methods	Mr M Moores
This semester students completed Unit 3 of the Mathematical Methods course and commenced Unit 4. In Term 1 students studied the Calculus of Exponential, Logarithmic and Trigonometric Functions, reviewed and extended their understanding of Anti-differentiation and completed the topic of Integrals and Applications of Integration. In Term 2 students reviewed and extended their knowledge of Trigonometry from Right Angle Triangles to the Sine and Cosine rules in 2D situations. Finally, the Statistics topic was commenced with the study of discrete random variables including the binomial distribution and continuous random variables and the normal distribution. In each of the areas studied, students solved problems arising from their understanding of the underlying mathematical concepts and skills taught.

Approach to Learning

Work Ethic	V
Behaviour	V

To be commended on:

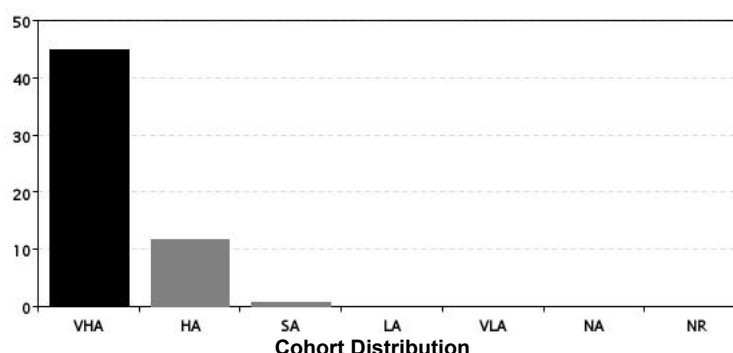

- Developing an excellent response to the Problem Solving and Modelling Task
- Demonstrating a thorough understanding of concepts covered
- Working independently to complete set tasks
- Applying appropriate mathematical concepts and techniques to solve problems

Academic performance could be improved by:

- Continuing to work with diligence to ensure further success
- Implementing a review of core content in preparation for the External Exam

Specialist Mathematics	Mrs R Johnson
This semester students completed Unit 3 of the Specialist Mathematics course and commenced Unit 4. In Term 1 content studied was in two main areas: Vector Calculus and Application, and Complex Numbers. The Vector unit included integration and differentiation of vector functions and application of vector calculus to motion in a plane. In the Complex Numbers unit students studied the complex plane (Argand diagrams), roots of complex numbers and factorisation of polynomials. In Term 2 students covered work related to integration and applications of integration and statistical Inference. In each of the areas studied, students solved problems arising from their understanding of the underlying mathematical concepts and skills taught.

Chemistry	Miss B Battoraro
This semester began with a review of Unit 3 topics Redox and Equilibrium Chemistry in preparation for students' first QCAA Internal Assessment the (IA1) Data Test. Students then continued with their final Unit 3 topic looking at Acid Base Chemistry. Titration experiments were conducted along with QCAA mandatory practicals to review students' skills around analysis and the evaluation of experimental data. These skills were then applied to the QCAA Internal Assessment (IA2) Student Experiment. In Term 2, focus shifted to completing the first topic of Unit 4: Properties and Structure of Organic Compounds. This work is in preparation for the QCAA Internal Assessment (IA3) Research Investigation, to be undertaken in the last week of Term 2 and first few weeks of Term 3.

Physics	Dr J Burmeister
This semester began with a focus on electric and magnetic fields and included practical experiments which provided the basis for their QCAA Internal Assessment (IA1) Data Test in Term 1. With this background completed, the concept of electromagnetic induction was introduced and then extended to cover transformers. At the end of Term 1 students led their own practical investigation – QCAA Internal Assessment (IA2) Student Experiment, which led to a report which was submitted at the beginning of Term 2. The focus then shifted to revolutions in modern physics, where the topic of Special Relativity was studied.

Form TeacherMs H Bourne

Lily is a bright and friendly student who has a calm disposition along with a wry sense of humour. She is a hard-working and dedicated student who participates in a range of co-curricular activities, and is committed to excellence across her academic and co-curricular commitments. Everything Lily engages with is done with grace and poise. She demonstrates her top Character Strength of Leadership daily, and her enthusiasm and contribution to the School in a variety of activities is admirable. I wish Lily a wonderful holiday and look forward to her return next semester.

Head of House

Lily must be congratulated on an excellent finish to the semester. Her results and the comments from her class teachers reflect her hard work and tireless commitment to her studies. Lily's ability to juggle the many demands on her time is admirable. She is a student with many wide and varied interests which are reflected in the many co-curricular activities in which she participates. As Lily looks towards the end of the year and begins preparations for her External Exams, I urge her to manage her time carefully. She will need to ensure she makes room in her busy schedule for quality sleep and time with friends and family in order to avoid burning out. I wish Lily luck for the remainder of Year 12.

Explanatory Notes

In order to comply with the Commonwealth and State reporting requirements that schools give parents an accurate and objective assessment of their child's progress and achievement, this report includes information of performance:

- i. against national standards, if such standards are available
- ii. relative to the performance of the child's peer group at the School; and
- iii. in five achievement bands. We have retained our familiar VHA+ to VLA- framework.

As well, the School has chosen to record the number of students in each of the five achievement bands per subject to give parents an indication of their child's performance relative to the subject group.

Level of Achievement (VHA+ to VLA-)

- VHA Very High Achievement
- HA High Achievement
- SA Sound Achievement
- LA Limited Achievement
- VLA Very Limited Achievement
- NR Not Rated

+ indicates the student is in the top third of this category at this point in time.

- indicates the student is in the bottom third of this category at this point in time.

Not Rated (NR)

In extenuating circumstances, the School may choose not to rate a student. Please contact your child's teacher should this result appear and you want further information.

Literacy Support

Students who do the Literacy Support subject will receive teacher comments, but the subject does not receive a rating.

Approach to Learning – Work Ethic and Behaviour

- V Very Good
- G Good
- S Satisfactory
- N Needs Improvement

International Baccalaureate - Explanatory Notes

As well, the School has chosen to record the number of students in each of the seven achievement bands per subject to give parents an indication of their child's performance relative to their group.

Level of Achievement (7 to 1)

- 7 Excellent
- 6 Very Good
- 5 Good
- 4 Satisfactory
- 3 Mediocre
- 2 Poor
- 1 Very Poor

Theory of Knowledge (Year 11)

- NR Not Rated
- ToK is commented on but does not include a rating for Semester One.

Theory of Knowledge (Year 12)

- A Excellent
- B Good
- C Satisfactory
- D Mediocre
- E Poor

These scores (results) are provisional and may vary from Exit scores.

Please note that for the academic report 2022, grades are not given +/-, only letter grades.

TOWNSVILLE GRAMMAR SCHOOL

5th August 2022

Letter of Reference: Lily Roehr

As both the Science Head of Faculty and Lily's Chemistry teacher at Townsville Grammar School, I have been fortunate to work with Lily across many of her academic pursuits. Lily presently studies Chemistry, Physics, Mathematical Methods, Specialist Mathematics, Music and English and has achieved highly across all subject areas. She was joint Dux in Year 11 as well as the subject prize winner for Mathematical Methods, Specialist Mathematics and Physics at our 2021 awards evening. Lily has also received a Pro Summa Diligentia at both our 2021 and 2022 Cum Laude Ceremonies.

Lily is a hardworking and dedicated science student who works above and beyond expectations. She takes advantage of every opportunity to apply herself to both her studies and through external pursuits, honing her sights on a future career in Science and Engineering. She has shown determination to broaden her knowledge and skills through attendance at the Australian National University's (ANU) National Youth Science Forum (NYSF) and James Cook University's Engineering Link program. Both experiences permitted Lily to undertake a variety of engineering-based activities alongside industry professionals to develop and sharpen her skills and future career pathway. In 2021 she received a scholarship from the Australasian Institute of Mining & Metallurgy awarded to the student most likely to take up a career in the Science and Engineering domain.

Lily is a School Prefect and shows a great deal of integrity and humility when it comes to her accomplishments. She also holds the role of Well-being Leader and the Celtic Strings Ensemble Leader. This year Lily was instrumental in the development of her House Community Service project supporting the local Endeavour Foundation. Lily's participation in the co-curricular life of the school demonstrates her well rounded commitment to all aspects of Grammar, not only her academics. She participated in the Royal Australian Chemical Institutes National Titration Competition alongside her Year 12 teammates. Her extracurricular and sporting activities also include: Grammar Singers, Grammar Dance, achieving tri-rep representation for our school sports carnivals, and Interact- our school-based community service group.

With regards,

Bianca Battoraro

To Whom It May Concern,

I understand that Lily Roehr is applying for a scholarship for university, and I would like to confirm Lily's involvement in The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award.

Lily has completed her Silver and Gold Awards, which represents over two years of regular commitment to The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award. Each level requires participants to complete regular, sustained activity in four key areas: Skill Development, Voluntary Service, Physical Recreation and two Adventurous Journeys. There is also an additional Gold Residential Project at Gold level.

If you need any further information, please don't hesitate to email me. I hope this assists with Lily's application, and we wish her the very best for her academic endeavours.

Cheers

Margita

Program Support Officer

Please note: As we head towards the end of the school year, the number of Awards submitted to AOA for approval increases significantly. We generally have a 28 day turnaround on approvals, but this may stretch out a little due to needing to prioritise participants completing Year 12. Thankyou for your patience.

Dear Lily,

I have great pleasure in offering you a scholarship to attend ISS Online 2022, this special edition of the Professor Harry Messel International Science School.

My warmest congratulations on being selected as a scholar for this year's ISS program, we really look forward to welcoming you in July. We received a large number of really high-quality applications, so you can be justifiably proud that you have been selected to attend.

(You may be wondering — why do we call this a "scholarship"? Well, we call everyone who attends an "ISS Scholar" in recognition of your dedication and enthusiasm to science and knowledge. Also, we offer the ISS at no cost to attendees — all expenses for the program are covered by the Physics Foundation at the University of Sydney, thanks to sponsors and donors over many years. As a result, we are offering you this place at ISS Online through a fully-funded scholarship.)

We have a great line up of guest speakers, all leading scientists in their fields, including Sydney Uni astrophysicist and galaxy hunter Prof. Elaine Sadler; computational neuroscientist (and ISS alumna) Prof. Adrienne Fairhall from the University of Washington, who is trying to understand the code behind human thought; Google VP and Fellow Blaise Agüera y Arcas whose work in AI and creativity is simply awe-inspiring; solar energy pioneer Prof. Anita Ho-Baillie, who is working on the highest-efficiency solar cells on the planet ... and many others, including the incomparable Dr Karl Kruszelnicki, Sleek Geek and all-round science nut.

And outside the lectures we have a bunch of activities planned, including live-streamed lab tours and hands-on experiments. (How do you do science experiments in an online program? You'll find out!) You'll also get to meet some of our fantastic ISS alumni, and a certain special guest from the world of online science video ...

To formally accept the ISS Online scholarship

1. Download and read the Student Information document carefully as it contains important information about the ISS Online program.
2. Then, please complete our online Student Information Form to accept your scholarship, provide all of your contact details, and inform us of anything we need to know that could affect your enjoyment of the program (e.g. physical or mental health concerns, technological issues, ...)

We need you to complete the online form as soon as possible, and no later than SUNDAY 22 MAY, so please go in there and get it done — thanks!

NOTE: If you are NOT able to accept the scholarship, as the competition for places is so strong, please contact us as soon as possible on iss.info@sydney.edu.au so that we can offer the place to one of our reserve students.

Download the Info PDF >

Go to the online form >

Once again, congratulations on your successful application. I really look forward to meeting you when the program starts — it's going to be a great week!

You'll be hearing from us again in the weeks ahead. In the meantime, if you have any questions please don't hesitate to contact us: iss.info@sydney.edu.au

Dear Lily

I am very pleased to advise you that you have now successfully completed all the requirements for your Silver Award. I trust that you are happy with this significant achievement. By setting and meeting the goals required to complete this award you will have gained some valuable skills.

I would like to encourage you to continue your achievements and consider the challenge of undertaking a Gold Award. The Gold Award is the highest level of The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award. Undertaking the Gold Award will help you build on your interests in learning new skills and working for your community. A particular challenge in the Gold Award is the Residential Project component. This component also allows you to experience an adventure of a lifetime.

You are now eligible to register to undertake a Gold Award and you have until you turn 25 to complete the Award. Please go to our website www.dukesaward.qld.gov.au if you require any further information regarding the Gold Award or The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award in Queensland.

Once again, congratulations on your achievement and my best wishes for the future.

Dear Lily

Congratulations. You were one of several hundreds of thousands of students who entered the 2021 Australian Mathematics Competition, one of the world's great competitions.

The following tables show your results. The statistics give you an indication of how you achieved in different areas of mathematics.

Your score is: Question 1 - 10 27 points
 11 - 20 20 points
 21 - 30 15 points
 making a total of 62 points

This earns you a Distinction certificate and places you in the top 11% of your year in your country or Australian state.

Lily Cosima Rose Roehr

Year 9.5

Form TeacherMr A Robson

Lily is a kind and considerate young person whose pleasant, out-going nature ensures that she is popular among her peers and teachers alike. She sets a fine example to those around her and demonstrates good abilities in both the academic and music fields. She has been an active participant in Form class activities and has contributed to the School's co-curricular program through her involvement in the School production, Symphony Orchestra, Chamber Strings, Celtic Strings and the Grammar Mezzo Choir. Lily presents herself as a positive role model to all students and is a valuable member of the Form class.

Year Co-ordinator

Lily's strong work ethic and positive attitude have produced these excellent results. The comments from her class teachers reflects her hard work and commitment to her studies. Lily is always polite and willing to help others. I congratulate her on achieving the Proxime Accessit Award and on her contribution to the co-curricular program at TGS.

Year 11H10

Form TeacherMs H Bourne

Lily is a remarkable student who epitomises her top Character Strength of Leadership. Lily seeks perfection in everything she does, and embraces the School's values of 'Every Opportunity'. Additionally, Lily is not only a talented scholar, but she is community minded and has participated in both Sony Camp and the Endeavour Foundation initiative, which I admire greatly. She is the quiet achiever, never seeking recognition for the countless activities of which she is involved, instead taking it all in her stride. I look forward to seeing Lily's journey as prefect and leader in the School next year.

Head of House

Lily is a wonderful student - a true asset to Hodges House. She has performed well this semester, and should be proud of her achievements, especially being awarded the leadership roles of Prefect, Wellbeing Leader and Celtic Strings Leader. Furthermore, it has been wonderful to see Lily taking up the opportunity to serve the Townsville community through the Hodges House Community Service Project. This project has seen Lily working with the Endeavour Foundation, where she has helped them to build a new chicken coop, and worked with customers - playing games and preparing fun activities. Lily should be proud of her efforts and I look forward to seeing her continued involvement in this project next year.

Lily Cosima Rose Roehr

Year 12H10

Form TeacherMs H Bourne

Lily is a bright and friendly student who has a calm disposition along with a wry sense of humour. She is a hard-working and dedicated student who participates in a range of co-curricular activities, and is committed to excellence across her academic and co-curricular commitments. Everything Lily engages with is done with grace and poise. She demonstrates her top Character Strength of Leadership daily, and her enthusiasm and contribution to the School in a variety of activities is admirable. I wish Lily a wonderful holiday and look forward to her return next semester.

Head of House

Lily must be congratulated on an excellent finish to the semester. Her results and the comments from her class teachers reflect her hard work and tireless commitment to her studies. Lily's ability to juggle the many demands on her time is admirable. She is a student with many wide and varied interests which are reflected in the many co-curricular activities in which she participates. As Lily looks towards the end of the year and begins preparations for her External Exams, I urge her to manage her time carefully. She will need to ensure she makes room in her busy schedule for quality sleep and time with friends and family in order to avoid burning out. I wish Lily luck for the remainder of Year 12.

Lily Cosima Rose Roehr

Year 11H10

Form TeacherMs H Bourne

Lily is to be commended for making such a positive start to the school year. She has embraced the opportunities at Townsville Grammar School, becoming involved in several facets of the co-curricular program for Music. Additionally, her generosity of spirit has enabled her to participate in the orchestra for school production, perform on assembly and play in the ANZAC Day service. It has been wonderful to see Lily immerse herself in our Form activities, and she clearly demonstrates her top Character Strength of Social Intelligence in how she approaches her school work and study.

Head of House

This report reflects Lily's maturity and focused approach to all aspects of her School life, both in and out of the classroom. She should be very confident about where she is heading, educationally, because Lily is certainly ready for the challenges and hard work ahead. She demonstrated this through her positive and organised approach to her studies. Well done, Lily!

Lily is a kind and thoughtful person who provides a reasoned perspective during all Form class activities. She works co-operatively with her peers who value her insightfulness as we explore the themed week topics. Lily contributes passionately to the School's co-curricular program through her involvement in the Symphony Orchestra, Chamber Strings, Celtic Strings, the Duke of Edinburgh's Award program and Swim@Grammar. It is a pleasure having Lily as a member of our Form class.

Year Co-ordinator

Lily has immersed herself in all things TGS this semester and should be congratulated on her success. Her hard work and dedication are reflected in the Pro Diligentia Award she has received. She demonstrated this through her positive and organised approach to learning online at the start of Term 2.

I have enjoyed seeing her perform as a member of Symphony Orchestra and Chamber Strings during our school assemblies. I look forward to seeing Lily continue her strong involvement in the Music program next year and wish her all the best with her Senior Studies.

Year Co-ordinator

Lily should be very proud of these results. She has worked tremendously hard this year and this is reflected in her Pro Summa Diligentia and Maxima Cum Laude awards. Lily thoroughly deserves all of the praiseworthy comments she has received from her teachers. I look forward to seeing her continue her involvement in the Music program next year as a way of holistic development and wish her all the best with her academics in Year 11.

Subject: Immerse | Your 2020 Essay Competition Scholarship Award

Date: Monday, 12 October 2020 at 7:20:00 pm Australian Eastern Standard Time

From: Elizabeth Franks

To: Lily Roehr

Dear Lily,

I hope you are well and have an enjoyable summer.

Once again we would like to congratulate you on the 20% scholarship you won through our essay competition in January last year.

Due to coronavirus, we were unable to deliver our programmes in Cambridge this summer, and we realise that the pandemic situation may have put off a lot of scholarship winners from enrolling in our summer programme.

We have received a number of requests from other essay competition participants who had decided not to attend in summer 2020 due to Covid-19, about whether it would be possible to use their scholarship award for summer 2021.

The good news is - yes! As this is an exceptional year, we are delighted to inform you that you are still eligible to use your scholarship award for the 2021 programmes, and you are free to use it either for our residential summer programme, or one of our online courses.

For your reference, you can see our three new prospectuses for 2021 here:

- Main residential summer programme prospectus
- Virtual programmes \(winter 2020/21\)
- 1:1 Online tutoring

If you are ready to enrol, please visit: www.immerse.education/enrol

During the online enrolment, you will be prompted to enter your scholarship code (LILYEC20), and this will result in a 20% reduction from the programme fee.

Please note that this scholarship code will expire on Friday 27 November 2020.

Finally, as many people have been asking, with regards to coronavirus, you can view our full policy at: <https://www.immerse.education/coronavirus/>

However, in brief - we want all families to be able enrol in our programmes in full confidence that if we are in a position that we have to cancel our programmes, or there is government guidance advising against attending a summer school in the UK, then we will be happy to do one of the following:

- Defer the booking until 2022
- Use the course fees as credit towards one of our online programmes (and refund the remainder)
- Issue a refund of the course fee

Please rest assured that the safety and well-being of our students and staff is our number one priority, and all preparations for our residential programmes are being done in-line with official advice and guidance from our accrediting body.

As these are exceptional times, we hope that this extension to your scholarship offer proves useful.

If you have any questions, or if there is anything else I can do to help, please let me know and I will be happy to assist.

Best wishes,

Elizabeth Franks

20 - October - 2021	01:00	I volunteered at the Endeavour foundation today from 3:30-4:30. We worked on maintaining the gardens and did some weeding. It felt nice to give back to the community, and it was also nice downtime from school.
27 - October - 2021	01:00	I volunteered at the Endeavour foundation. I weeded the garden with some other students and spoke to the manager, mark.
12 - October - 2021	00:45	We had a meeting today about the endeavour foundation, to organise who was coming and which teachers would be supervising.

Assessor: Yvonne West

Date	Duration	Description
03 - November - 2021	01:00	We deconstructed the chicken coop because the Endeavour foundation are planning on building one because all of the chickens escaped the current one, and needed the space and the materials from the current coop. We removed metal poles from the ground that held up the chicken wire, and this was very difficult. We had to dig very deep holes and then pour water on the soil to soften it. Eventually, we managed to remove most of the posts. We also had to removed the many zip ties from the chicken wire which was attaching it to the metal posts, and then we peeled the chicken wire off and folded it up.
10 - November - 2021	01:00	3:30 - 4:30 We finished deconstructing the cheek coup, cleaned the inside of one of the buildings and planned ideas for next year, such as making a mural.
17 - November - 2021	01:00	We disassembled a piece of artwork about fish and aquariums, featuring clay fish that the clients had made. We moved this to where the chicken coop was, as the Endeavour foundation wanted to use the artwork's wood structure to build the new chicken coop.
28 - January - 2022	00:45	We had a meeting today at lunch where we met with the grade 11s who were interested in running the Endeavour foundation this year. There were a lot of them who showed up, which was very positive, and they all seemed very eager to help. This made me very happy as it is likely that this will become a permanent project at the school.
13 - October - 2021	01:00	I attended the afternoon session at the Endeavour foundation from 3:30 - 4: 30. I was the older student there, so I also looking out for the younger grades. We weeded and tidied the gardens.
12 - October - 2021	00:45	I attended a lunch time meeting about the Endeavour foundation and organising it. I spoke to some students in my school house, and we tried to plan a way to get students involved.

Date	Duration	Description
06 - October - 2021	00:45	I attended a meeting at lunch today. We discussed how we would record student sign ups to endeavour foundation, such as going around to form classes and asking. I suggested that we create another google forms survey and send it out to the students. I then offered to create the survey. I previous made one for the same purpose a few month ago, however it needed some changes, such as date changes and which students were able to go to specific sessions.
06 - October - 2021	00:45	Today I fixed up the google form that students would use to sign up to the Endeavour foundation. It took me a while to put together as I was not sure how to use the software, and I sent it off to Ms West for approval afterwards. I found the task quite rewarding and it was nice to learn a new skill.
14 - September - 2021	00:45	Today, we had a meeting today about organising the Endeavour foundation so that we can start next term without catching up extra work. I delegated some tasks, such as asking students to confirm which teachers can come and supervise. This made me feel quite relieved, as the pressure of being the only student running the program is a lot to deal with.

Assessor Report

I Certify That as the Assessor of this activity that the participant has met the requirements. Please comment on the participants improvement/ performance/ commitment.

Lily was a key driver in establishing the Hodges House Endeavour Foundation Community Service Project. She attended volunteering sessions at the foundation centre and helped organise the project to begin with, through being the liaison with the foundation. Lily helped put measures in place to recruit other Hodges House students to participate in the project.

Goal:

To become more confident in my playing, and develop better technique through practice and learning.

Assessor:

Stephen Frew

Date	Duration	Description
15 - September - 2021	00:30	Practiced (30 mins) and performed for my music assessment component of my IA3 (integrated project). I performed Galop by Vaughan Williams.
13 - September - 2021	00:30	practiced (30 mins) my audition excerpts and audition piece for my AYO video audition and I then filmed and uploaded my audition
25 - September - 2021	01:00	Practiced the Telemann viola concerto, 2nd and 3rd movements. I worked on important solo passages and listened to a recording - following along with my part. I also worked on my libertango part for string trio.
12 - November - 2021	01:00	Practiced all 4 movements of the Telemann viola concerto, worked on the scale runs and getting the piece up to speed. I repeated passages, varying the rhythm to learn the notes, and tried my best to use the shifts and fingering written. I think the piece has substantially improved.

Viola

Goal:

Date	Duration	Description
04 - November - 2021	01:00	Practiced the Telemann viola concerto all movements. I worked on slow passages and made sure I was getting the correct notes, and then brought the passages up to speed. I watched videos for reference for bowing and changed my bowing accordingly to what suited me. I also worked on tone and playing in a baroque style, e.g using the correct type of vibrato.
08 - September - 2021	01:00	I practiced my audition excerpt for my Australian Youth Orchestra audition. I worked on the Brahms symphony in E minor, 4th movement extract, and I tried to play along with a recording so that my playing would imitate how it would be played in a professional orchestra.
17 - November - 2021	01:00	I ran through the Telemann viola concerto, and isolated passages where there were errors. I then practiced them with different rhythms, a technique used to increase accuracy of fast passages. I found that this was very helpful in the 2nd and 4th movement, and that the sound was much cleaner.
14 - September - 2022	01:00	I practiced my C major scales, and used varying amount of bows per scale, such as 4 notes to a bow and 8 notes to a bow, and I also worked on my dominant and diminished scales. I practiced the upper octaves as well.
01 - June - 2022	01:00	I worked on my piece, song without words, and worked on the minor section and the bit where it is on the high register of the A string. I practiced it slowly and then sped it up and I found that my intonation improved. I also worked on my bow control through the piece.
07 - June - 2022	01:00	Today I worked on perfecting the rhythm of the Allegro Appassionato piece. I played the notes as subdivisions, and played through each section with a metronome many times.
14 - June - 2022	01:00	Today I worked on the Allegro Appassionato, and on the Bach Allemande. I began with Allegro Appassionato and played it many times with a metronome to improve the rhythm. I then played the Bach slowly to work on intonation.
21 - June - 2022	01:00	I worked on the Bach today and I ran through some scales. I practiced the second section of the Bach slowly to improve my intonation.
30 - September - 2021	01:15	Over the school holidays I had some more time to practice. I worked on my Kreutzer study, and played it through with different rhythms to help learn the notes.

Viola

Date	Duration	Description
28 - October - 2021	01:00	Today I worked on my scales, and ran through 6ths and Octaves in Eb major, so that I do not forget them now as I just learnt them. I then worked on playing my piece, Allegro Appassionato, in subdivisions to help me learn the rhythm, which is quite complicated. I really like this piece, so I am excited to learn it.
02 - December - 2021	01:00	Today I worked on 'Song without words'. I tried to improve my bow speed so I played the piece through without the notes, and just with open strings. I found that this really improved my tone. I then worked on the introduction of the Glinka Viola sonata, and I practiced the shift to get it into tune. The intonation has improved a lot, which made me feel very positive.
06 - December - 2021	01:00	Today I worked on the Glinka Viola Sonata. I worked on the passage that is low and fast on the C string. It requires a lot of stretching, with a high 3rd finger, so it is often out of tune. I played it through a few times and then practiced individual sections, and I found that the intonation, tone, and ease of playing really improved. I also practiced other shifts in the piece slowly.
21 - December - 2021	01:00	Today I practiced different passages from the Glinka slowly to improve my intonation. I was quite happy with the results.
13 - January - 2022	01:00	I worked on the ending of the Glinka. It is still in the initial stages so I worked on the intonation.
20 - January - 2022	01:00	I spent 25 mins playing open strings to work on my tone, and then I played some scales, focusing on intonation.
25 - January - 2022	01:00	Today I decided to work on my right hand bow hold. I played through my pieces in front of a mirror and made sure that my hand was in the right place and that my wrist was not bent when my bow reached the frog. I had to stop and reset my bow hand many times, but I noticed an improvement near the end.
01 - February - 2022	01:00	Today I practiced my scales and worked on the rhythm in my piece, Allegro Appassionato.
07 - February - 2022	01:00	Today I practiced the rhythm and intonation of the Glinka Viola Sonata.
23 - March - 2022	01:00	Today I practiced C major scales and the Bach Allemande from suite number 2 in D minor. My focus was intonation and bow speed.

25 - April - 2022	01:00	I practiced my Kreutzer study slowly to improve the intonation. I worked at the shift at the end and practiced it many Time to help improve the intonation.
29 - April - 2022	01:00	Today I worked on the Glinka Viola sonata. I played the middle section slower to increase the clarity of the runs.

I Certify That as the Assessor of this activity that the participant has met the requirements. Please comment on the participants improvement/ performance/ commitment.

I have been teaching Lily the viola for the past 3 years. She has been diligent in her practice, and has developed her technique and musicality to a high level. She has been involved in the Barrier Reef Orchestra, and a string orchestra that I work with, in which she has performed both as a member of the ensemble and as a soloist. Lily has always been enthusiastic in her musical pursuits.

Writing Music

Goal: To improve my compositional skills. Usually I write my pieces by improvising, but I am aiming to focus on notating my scores more regularly to help me improve the quality of my compositions, as well as my compositional ability, and give me the opportunity to edit a written score and therefore write more music. I have weekly 1 hour lessons, as well as composition that I do in my own time, usually totally around 2 hours a week or more.

07 - September - 2022	02:00	I finished notating and editing the score for my composition, Tribute to Mussorgsky, in preparation for my application to the Australian Youth Orchestra composition camp. I had to notate some new sections, which was challenging, however I was very proud to have written it out.
10 - August - 2022	04:00	I notated my composition, tribute to Mussorgsky, from an audio recording to a score. This took a long time, and some melodies, especially the rhythm of the beginning, were very difficult to transcribe. Once I had transcribed most of the material, I printed off a copy of the score and I rearranged certain sections to create a more cohesive work. I composed a transition between the main theme and the second theme and I think that worked very well, so I was very pleased with that. This process took me a long time, but it was definitely worth it.

Writing Music

Goal:

To improve my compositional skills. Usually I write my pieces by improvising, but I am aiming to focus on notating my scores more regularly to help me improve the quality of my compositions, as well as my compositional ability, and give me the opportunity to edit a written score and therefore write more music. I have weekly 1 hour lessons, as well as composition that I do in my own time, usually totally around 2 hours a week or more.

08 - August - 2022	01:00	I found out today that I need to change the mood of my composition from upbeat to sad and sombre. This was quite a challenge for me as I was aiming to finish my composition for the end of this week, so I composed a new melody based off the previous tune, but in the relative minor key. I began to notate this tune on Sibelius, and notated the main melody.
23 - July - 2022	01:00	I composed an alternate accompaniment for the "melody" in my composition, tribute to Mussorgsky. This feature arpeggios in the left hand of the piano, instead of chords, which created a much different feeling, it was much grander than the version with chords. I notated this new version, and experimented with changing the inversions of the arpeggios, and adding interesting passing notes, to create a range of colours in my music. I am quite pleased with this idea, and I will likely use it in my final composition.
14 - July - 2022	01:00	I showed the introduction that I had composed to my theory and composition teacher and he liked it. He suggested that I notate it and then improve it, which I did today. I worked on changing the chord sequence so it was less predictable, however I think even the original introduction creates lots of continuity and is interesting. I listened to my recording of my improvisation and notated each rhythm and note using my aural skills and then I wrote some more of the melody.
30 - July - 2022	01:00	Today I worked on the structure of my piece. I planned it out and then experimented with different piano accompaniments at the piano.
17 - August - 2022	01:00	Today I notated new sections of my piece that I had improved and then I wrote a counter melody. I found that my aural skills had improved a lot, so I was able to notate things quite easily.
24 - August - 2022	01:00	Today I finished notating the new part of my composition, 'Tribute to Mussorgsky'.
07 - October - 2021	01:00	I worked on composing a different accompaniment to my piece, andante in A major, and I recorded this on the voice memos app on my phone. I tried using triplets and arpeggios in the bass, and I am trying to add some variation to my original style.

13 - October - 2021	00:30	Today I improvised a new piece, and I recorded this. I really liked the melody so I played it a few times and then changed the chords underneath.
14 - October - 2021	00:30	I experimented more with the chords from yesterday.
18 - October - 2021	01:00	Today I improvising with some new ideas, such as an Eb in the bass underneath a Bb minor chord in the right hand, on the piano. I then worked on my piece, Cantabile in Db major, and tried to fix up the middle section to make it more interesting by experimenting with new chords.
26 - November - 2021	01:00	Today I worked on writing another section to my piece in A major. I composed a section in B minor, and I started to write it out in Sibelius (music notation program). It was quite tedious, but it is very important to write things down so that I can play them in the future.
26 - November - 2021	01:00	Today I notated the first part of my piece in A major. I then made some changes to the harmonies, it was really useful notating it.
14 - December - 2021	01:00	I brought some score paper with me on South Passage so I notated some of a recent piece that I had improvised. It was a bit difficult to remember, but I got most of it down.
29 - December - 2021	01:00	Today I improvised a theme. I tried to use the whole tone scale and used some interesting harmonies. I recorded this and spent sometime trying to create a chord sequence and come up with a catchy melody.
04 - January - 2022	01:15	I improvised around the theme that I used last week. I changed the register of the tune and then I began to write it out.
15 - February - 2022	01:00	Today I worked on my A major piece and tried to write a repeat of the main theme with variation. I added 6ths and 3rds and passing notes to create variation and a grand ending and I was quite happy with this.
22 - February - 2022	01:00	Today I improvised a new piece and experimented with clashing harmonies and dissonance, such as A major chords with a B in the bass.

02 - March - 2022	01:00	Today I worked on composing an impressionist piece. I began improvising in an impressionist style and experimented with different chords and rhythms, such as using a raised 6th in a minor key, to convey impressionist feelings.
07 - March - 2022	01:00	I continued to work on my impressionist style. I did some research on the characteristics of impressionist pieces and then spent about an hour trying out different chords, such as the whole tone scale. I thought it sounded really good, and I recorded my new ideas.
14 - March - 2022	01:00	I worked on my impressionist composition, I tried different chords, developed the theme and then I produced a recording that I was quite happy with.
13 - May - 2022	01:00	Today I worked on notating one of my compositions. I wrote it out on Sibelius and then made some changes to the chords on Sibelius and added some variation to the chords, which made it more interesting.
16 - May - 2022	01:00	Today I finished notating the recording which I started notating last week (for piano). I added some variation to the main melodies with a counter melody, and I also added double stops.
01 - May - 2022	01:00	Today I improvised a new tune on the piano. I really liked how it sounded and I tried to include some interesting harmonies, and I found it was much different to my normal improvisations. I played around with the theme and tried to write a variation in the relative minor.
08 - May - 2022	01:00	I continued to work on the piece from last week. I composed a waltz like section in the dominant key. I experiment with unusual harmonies and cadences and I really liked the results.
23 - May - 2022	01:00	Today I worked on a fragment of a melody that I composed. I added some passing notes and variation, and found that I really liked the fragment. I also spent some time trying to incorporate it into a main theme, but I could come up with something that I liked much.
15 - September - 2022	01:00	I had a composition lesson from 3:30 - 4:30pm.
10 - September - 2022	01:00	I had a composition lesson from 11:00 - 12:00 pm.

Assessor Report

I Certify That as the Assessor of this activity that the participant has met the requirements. Please comment on the participants improvement/ performance/ commitment.

Throughout her study Lily has continued to develop her ability to write original compositions that display solid compositional craft, logical formal structure, and creative flair. She has a pragmatic "audience focussed" approach that ensures her works have purpose on the concert stage.

Her most recent work (based on the work of Modest Mussorgsky) has led to her discovering a whole new harmonic palette from which to create harmonic structures, and has sparked curiosity about what else she can learn to further expand her craft. I look forward to seeing her future compositional works.
