Form Class: B

EXPLANATION OF REPORT GRADES – YEARS 1 – 12

The table below is designed to be used as a guide by teachers, parents and students in writing and interpreting reports. Each set of descriptors gives a global impression of the typical student in each category. Further specific information and explanation about individual students may be obtained from the teacher concerned.

NG – Non Graded

NA – Not Applicable

| A | Evidence in a student's work typically demonstrates a very high level of knowledge and understanding of the content (facts, concepts, and procedures), and application of skills. | Homework is completed on time and shows care and attention to detail.                                                               | Consistently displays an enthusiastic and positive attitude. Uses class time effectively and is self-motivated. Works independently and with initiative. Contributes positively and thoughtfully to class discussions and activities.                                                        | Is consistently courteous, well behaved, co-operative and punctual. Displays an understanding of classroom standards and interacts considerately with others.                |
| B | Evidence in a student's work typically demonstrates a high level of knowledge and understanding of the content (facts, concepts, and procedures), and application of skills.      | Homework is mostly completed on time and shows a consistent effort is being made.                                                   | Mostly shows a positive attitude, uses class time effectively and is generally self-motivated. Works independently and participates constructively in class discussions and activities.                                                                                                      | Is mostly well behaved, courteous, co-operative and punctual. Demonstrates responsiveness to teacher direction and only occasionally requires correction.                    |
| C | Evidence in a student's work typically demonstrates a sound level of knowledge and understanding of the content (facts, concepts, and procedures), and application of skills.     | Homework is sometimes completed on time and shows a satisfactory effort is being made.                                              | Sometimes makes positive use of class time. Works well given occasional teacher encouragement and redirection. Usually displays a positive attitude towards the subject and sometimes participates in class discussions and activities.                                                      | Is sometimes well behaved, courteous and co-operative. Teacher redirection is required at times. Sometimes needs reminding of appropriate behaviour.                         |
| D | Evidence in a student's work typically demonstrates a limited level of knowledge and understanding of the content (facts, concepts, and procedures), and application of skills.   | Inconsistent attention is given to homework. Work shows evidence of carelessness and/or lack of effort and is sometimes incomplete. | Requires teacher motivation and direct supervision to make use of class time. Rarely works independently. Displays an inconsistent attitude towards the subject and generally requires prompting before becoming involved in class discussions and activities. Work is sometimes incomplete. | Displays inconsistent and/or inappropriate behaviour and lacks co-operation and politeness. Teacher redirection is needed regularly. Can be a disruptive influence at times. |

| Fariha considered the basic beliefs of the Christian Faith such as the Bible, the growth of the early church and the effects of belief on everyday life. She participated insightfully and enthusiastically in most activities. Fariha is well behaved and I look forward to working with her in Semester Two. |    |

| I am thrilled with the improvement in Fariha's English throughout Semester One. Her writing is becoming more controlled and she is showing a better ability to self-edit and use feedback from the drafting process. Fariha's English speaking skills are well developed, with effective use of gesture and body language to enhance her presentations. Further control over the pace of her speeches would be beneficial. She always strives to achieve her best, and this is evident in her insightful contributions to class discussions. I look forward to teaching Fariha during Semester Two. |   |

Fariha is an extremely capable student who consistently produces work of a very high standard. She has a mature attitude and is a good example to other students in the group. Her clear, logical thinking helps Fariha master any new concepts. She ensures that she completes all set questions, seeking help with problems that she cannot fully work. Fariha's Semester One examination results have been particularly impressive; I encourage her to continue working on questions of highest complexities and requiring greater initiative in order to further improve her results. I urge Fariha to maintain her positive learning strategies so that she can continue to enjoy success in this subject. It has been a pleasure teaching Fariha and I look forward to observing her success throughout the remainder of her Senior studies.

Fariha has earned a very high level of achievement this semester in Mathematics C and continues to utilise her class time well. She demonstrates the ability to work both independently and collaboratively to a high level in this subject. It has been pleasing to see Fariha willingly explain problem-solving strategies to her peers. This practice is encouraged as it will only enhance her mathematical ability. She attempts all problems with confidence and always presents a logical sequence of ideas in her work with an appropriate use of mathematics throughout. Fariha has been proactive in ensuring that she spends an appropriate amount of time consolidating her understanding of mathematical concepts at home. She would further benefit from working on more complex problems at home to improve her strategies when attempting unfamiliar questions. Fariha should be proud of her results this semester, and I wish her the best for her continuing studies next semester.

Fariha has had a successful first semester of Senior Chemistry. She should be pleased with the improvement of her responses in examinations; Fariha showed development in her understanding of the topics and clarifying what the question was asking. She is an observant and intuitive student who quietly takes in concepts presented in class and works well unsupervised. Next semester, two assignments will be completed; organisation will be the key to Fariha maintaining or improving this pleasing standard of achievement. I look forward to teaching Fariha in Semester Two where a more experimental-based approach to learning is undertaken.

Fariha's results show a very high ability in Physics and that she has a natural talent for the subject. She is a conscientious student, completing work to the very best of her ability and taking pride in her work. I would encourage Fariha to seek assistance outside of class whenever she requires conceptual or mathematical clarification. While this did happen at times, it needs to become more of a regular habit as the course becomes increasingly difficult. I look forward to continued success from Fariha next semester.

Fariha is a conscientious student who approaches her studies in a positive and organised manner. Improving her results over the semester, she has demonstrated a high level of understanding of fundamental accounting concepts and a proficient ability to analyse, process and record financial information in meaningful ways. Fariha's focused approach and attention to detail are well suited to this subject. I encourage her to continue to refine her interpretation and evaluation skills, through methodical practise and seeking regular feedback. Fariha is a pleasure to teach and I look forward to working with her to achieve further success.

| Fariha remains a quiet and respectful member of Barnabas. She is an organised student who manages her academic workload effectively, and this is reflective of the high standards she achieves. Fariha is to be commended for her involvement and excellent results in the MacDonald's Maths Competition. This term in Pastoral Access, Fariha has continued to assist with our choir rehearsals, in particular with collecting and supporting Junior School students with rehearsals. She has contributed to our House fundraising with purchasing soft drink, manning the cash register at our BBQ and painting props for choir. I encourage Fariha to continue being involved in pastoral activities and embrace the sense of community involvement. |               |

EXPLANATION OF REPORT GRADES – YEARS 1 – 12

The table below is designed to be used as a guide by teachers, parents and students in writing and interpreting reports. Each set of descriptors gives a global impression of the typical student in each category. Further specific information and explanation about individual students may be obtained from the teacher concerned.

NG – Non Graded

NA – Not Applicable

| A | EXTENDINGEvidence in a student's work typically demonstrates a very high level of knowledge and understanding of the content (facts, concepts, and procedures), and application of skills to familiar, new and complex unfamiliar situations; works consistently at an independent level and extends considerably beyond the achievement standard. | Homework is completed on time and shows care and attention to detail.                                                               | Consistently displays an enthusiastic and positive attitude. Uses class time effectively and is self-motivated. Works independently and with initiative. Contributes positively and thoughtfully to class discussions and activities.                                                        | Is consistently courteous, well behaved, co-operative and punctual. Displays an understanding of classroom standards and interacts considerately with others.                |
| B | ADVANCINGEvidence in a student's work typically demonstrates a high level of knowledge and understanding of the content (facts, concepts, and procedures), and application of skills to familiar and some new situations and some complex familiar situations; works mostly at an independent level and works beyond the achievement standard.     | Homework is mostly completed on time and shows a consistent effort is being made.                                                   | Mostly shows a positive attitude, uses class time effectively and is generally self-motivated. Works independently and participates constructively in class discussions and activities.                                                                                                      | Is mostly well behaved, courteous, co-operative and punctual. Demonstrates responsiveness to teacher direction and only occasionally requires correction.                    |
| C | DEMONSTRATINGEvidence in a student's work typically demonstrates a sound level of knowledge and understanding of the content (facts, concepts, and procedures), and application of skills at their appropriate year level, demonstrating the achievement standard; can work independently.                                                         | Homework is sometimes completed on time and shows a satisfactory effort is being made.                                              | Sometimes makes positive use of class time. Works well given occasional teacher encouragement and redirection. Usually displays a positive attitude towards the subject and sometimes participates in class discussions and activities.                                                      | Is sometimes well behaved, courteous and co-operative. Teacher redirection is required at times. Sometimes needs reminding of appropriate behaviour.                         |
| D | DEVELOPINGEvidence in a student's work typically demonstrates a limited level of knowledge and understanding of the content (facts, concepts, and procedures), and partial application of skills, below their year level expectations; works towards the achievement standard, with prompts and attempts                                           | Inconsistent attention is given to homework. Work shows evidence of carelessness and/or lack of effort and is sometimes incomplete. | Requires teacher motivation and direct supervision to make use of class time. Rarely works independently. Displays an inconsistent attitude towards the subject and generally requires prompting before becoming involved in class discussions and activities. Work is sometimes incomplete. | Displays inconsistent and/or inappropriate behaviour and lacks co-operation and politeness. Teacher redirection is needed regularly. Can be a disruptive influence at times. |

| In response to the call to 'Lead with Service' promoted by Jesus Christ in the Two Great Commandments, Fariha has accepted the challenge to support the collection of food for the hampers to be distributed by Anglicare in the Mackay community and to assist Junior School students. Fariha, a polite and thoughtful student, has capably assisted Year 1 students with art activities. She has experienced community worship in our Chapel of Saint Barnabas and in the special liturgies celebrated in Assembly Chapel. |    |

| A talented student, I am very impressed with Fariha's excellent achievement in this subject. Throughout this semester, Fariha has developed an adept understanding of both the written and spoken language elements of the course. Her vocabulary has become more sophisticated with each assessment task; and, she has demonstrated the ability to write using complex ideas and literary devices with control. Fariha's English speaking skills are discerning, with effective use of expression and energy to engage her audience. She always strives to achieve her best, and this was evident in her perceptive contributions to class discussions. Fariha has been a pleasure to teach. |   |

Fariha is an enthusiastic student, and demonstrates an admirable work ethic. Her hard work, along with a natural aptitude for mathematics, has earned her a very high level of achievement this semester. Fariha frequently exhibits a myriad of learned mathematical skills, appropriately and in context; her ability to apply these skills when interpreting and solving complex problems is commendable. Fariha's focus, determination and confidence this semester are a testament to her character; her efforts have been applied in a consistent manner and it is reflected in her impressive results across all criteria. I encourage Fariha to continue striving for improvement, in particular to make sure she consistently checks calculations for errors and interprets the reasonableness of her answers. She has prepared herself well for continued success in Mathematics B, and I look forward to further development in Year 12.

Fariha has worked diligently this semester and her dedication to Mathematics has been rewarded with an impressive very high level of achievement. She has been an effective and efficient mathematics student over the semester and has improved greatly in her responses to questions requiring further analysis, interpretation and evaluation. She exhibits admirable work ethic and resolve; in particular, her continuous endeavour towards perfection is commendable. Fariha gives freely of herself to her peers, consistently offering assistance and explanation, which further consolidates her understanding. The challenge is to maintain her current focus and enthusiasm throughout Year 12. Fariha has been a pleasure to teach and I look forward to her continued success in 2018.

Fariha is an engaged and enthusiastic member of the class. She is always polite in her interactions and confident in her approach to each task. Fariha has achieved at a very high standard this semester. Time management in examinations is an area that is still progressing. Fariha contributes to class discussions and takes a leadership role in all practical activities. She has a natural ability and can process unfamiliar data and draw appropriate conclusions. Fariha is a pleasure to teach.

Fariha has worked well throughout this semester. She has shown a strong aptitude for this subject and has achieved at a very high level in all forms of assessment. Fariha has the confidence to ask questions to assist her understanding and seeks assistance, both in and out of class. She works cooperatively with other students. Fariha is a courteous and considerate young lady.

Fariha is a hard-working, friendly student who is always considerate of others. Throughout the semester she has been consistent in her approach to her work, achieving at a high level while demonstrating a detailed understanding of fundamental accounting concepts and an accurate ability to organise, process and record accounting information. Fariha has been able to effectively apply her understanding in both routine and complex analytical situations. However, she has encountered some difficulty when interpreting information and communicating the significance of the data. I have enjoyed working with Fariha this year and wish her all the best.

| Fariha is a quiet and reliable member of the Pastoral Access group. It has been wonderful to see her grow in confidence within Barnabas House and become more involved with activities and discussions. Fariha's sense of leadership is evident as she has taken the initiative to generate resources for the Year 12 Barnabas House Farewell Assembly, and is involved with several co-curricular service clubs. Academically, Fariha is commended for both her aptitude and application. She approaches her academic studies with a great sense of purpose, consistently demonstrating enthusiasm and a high level of achievement. This has been reflected through her Cum Laude Award, her selection into STEM programs and her outstanding results at the Regional Titration Competition, in addition to her excellent academic school results. I look forward to supporting Fariha as she continues to grow in confidence in her final year of schooling. |               |

| I commend Fariha on her excellent results in English. She writes with flair and sophisticated technical control. Fariha approaches the subtleties of critical analysis across a range of texts, and is confident in her ability to clearly articulate complex ideas. Fariha's public speaking skills are well developed, showing a natural ability to engage the audience. Her enthusiastic attitude is a great asset to the class, ensuring that group discussions are lively and enjoyable. Drafts are submitted on time, with Fariha taking full advantage of the conferencing process. She is a pleasure to teach. |  |            |

| Fariha is a diligent and focused student. She has achieved well over the semester, and this is due to her impressive work ethic, strong command of mathematical fundamentals and an ability to apply algebraic and numerical skills and techniques appropriately to solve problems in an array of contexts and complexities. Fariha is able to very quickly understand new concepts and apply this understanding to high complexity problems. I encourage Fariha to continue working in this way, and to ensure she spends a good amount of time solving problems of an unfamiliar nature. This will allow her to continue developing new skills and strategies that she can apply when necessary. I look forward to Fariha's continued successes in Semester Two. |  |                |

| Modelling and Problem Solving   | A- |
| Communication and Justification | A- |

Fariha is a model student. She frequently challenges herself to solve the most complex problems and is constantly developing her mathematical techniques and understandings. Fariha has very good work and study habits, she works within strict time restrictions, and as such ensures that she is forming a thorough understanding by consistently revisiting questions across a range of complexities, concepts and familiarities; more frequently revisiting concepts allows for better long term retention of understanding and procedures. I encourage Fariha to continue her current practices and ensure she spends time further developing her strategies when encountering unfamiliar scenarios and interpretation of life-related and worded problems. I look forward to Fariha's sustained efforts and successes in Semester Two.

Fariha is a student who utilises all the traits necessary for achieving to her potential in Chemistry. Her quiet persistence in clarifying concepts and identifying her weaknesses are the key to her success in this subject. Fariha understands that the details are essential in all assessment pieces in Chemistry and takes the time to attend to them. She will be an asset in any workplace in the future. It is a pleasure to have Fariha in my class, and I wish her all the best in her final semester of schooling.

Fariha shows a very high level of commitment to Physics and this is reflected in her results. She works diligently on class work and homework and takes pride in the completion of the more challenging questions. She is meticulous and methodical in her problem-solving strategies and seeks assistance when necessary. Fariha has demonstrated the skills necessary to be a top student in Physics and I look forward to a strong finish from Fariha next semester.

| Fariha is a quiet and considerate student. She always presents to Tutor Group with a friendly smile and a positive attitude. Fariha has been an active participant this Semester with House Choir practice, offering ideas and contributing towards Barnabas group discussions. She continues to endeavour to achieve highly, showing her ability to manage school work with extra-curricular involvements. In addition, it is lovely that, on occasion, Fariha has been able to support peers with their studies this term. I look forward to her continued application in Semester Two. |               |
