Mentor Comment

Hayden, you are consistently a dependable, humble and mature person. You go from strength to strength each year and I value your contribution to our mentor group. You couldn't possibly be more involved in House and school life than you currently are! You are well respected and liked among your peers and I am pleased to see you getting the most out of your final year at Hutchins. You have a strong work ethic and as final exams loom in the distance stay focused and well organised. You do not have much longer here at Hutchins so I encourage you to relish these last few months of school life. To look back on this time with your mates is one of the fondest memories one can have. Keep up the great work.

Ms K Langridge

Assistant Head of Senior School

You are quite a remarkable young man, Hayden, and I continue to be impressed by your positive involvement in everything you turn your hand to, your respectful interactions with peers and staff, and your committed approach to achieving your best across your challenging suite of courses, including the High Achievers Program. You are always impeccably presented, authentic in your interactions and sensitive to the needs of others, making you a most valued and respected leader of the Stephens community. I wish you only the very best for the remainder of this year and for all your future endeavours. Keep well, and in touch.

Rowing

I have spent the last six years competing in rowing events with both The Hutchins School and the Tasmania University Boat Club, with some success. I won the Under 17 and Under 19 state championship in the Single Scull in 2020 and 2022 respectively, along with various crew achievements including a bronze medal at the 2022 Australian Rowing Championships in the Under 19 Coxless Four and gold in 2019 in the Under 17 Coxed Quad. A particular highlight was rowing Schools First VIII in both 2021 and 2022, winning Head of the River (Tasmania) both years. Our crew of boys practised together around ten sessions per week, for eight months each year, requiring a high level of synchronicity, technical skill, and strength to achieve our aims. I have recently been awarded Junior Oarsman of the year by Rowing Tasmania.

In what capacity do you know the applicant?

I have known Hayden as an engaged and positive student of my pre-tertiary English class, and as a warmly regarded member of the House.

How long have you known the applicant?

I have known Hayden for the past four years, since 2019.

Does the applicant have any outstanding qualities? If so, please explain:

Hayden stands out as a leader due to his quiet and steady determination to persevere and achieve what is best for the greater good. He is humble, sensitive to the needs of others and modest.

In your view, when do you see this student most highly engaged? For example, when pursuing academics, a sport, or music, or another passion?

In any given situation, Hayden always gives his best, but he is most highly engaged when pursuing his sport (rowing); an activity requiring an incredible level of commitment, stamina, discipline, and mental and physical fitness – all things that Hayden has in abundance.

What would you regard as areas requiring further maturity or development in the candidate?

This is a tricky one for me to answer, as Hayden always rises to the occasion and works hard on his own to develop his skills or knowledge.

Any additional comments you would like to make about the applicant?

Hayden presents as a reserved member of the group, but this is not a measure of his engagement or interest. Hayden is a keen observer and always gives careful consideration before contributing to discussions with thoughtful insight and perspective. Looking after the environment and living sustainably are key passions for Hayden.

E-mail: Andrew.palmer@utas.edu.au

In what capacity do you know the applicant?

I have coached Hayden in rowing for the past 3 years (U16, First Year Open, Second Year Open). He was stroke of the U16 Eight, and a key member of the winning Head of the River crews in 2021 and 2022.

How long have you known the applicant?

Three years.

Does the applicant have any outstanding qualities? If so, please explain:

Hayden has many outstanding qualities. He has been an incredibly engaged leader in our rowing community since I have known him as a 15 year old. He was the stroke of the U16 Eight, and in this role was responsible for the leadership of a crew of mixed talents who were able to perform above their ability throughout the season. Hayden's calm head under pressure, ability to motivate his crew mates and leadership by example were key elements in bringing the best out each and every one of the members of the crew. The following year as a First Year Open rower, through hard work and determination Hayden was selected in the winning First Eight. Despite being his first year in the Open Squad, his quiet determination, focussed work ethic, attention to detail, and willingness to put the team's needs above his own saw Hayden become a cornerstone of the Open squad. He continued his excellent efforts in his second year in the Opens Squad, once again being selected in the winning First Eight, as well as winning a bronze medal at the Nation Championships in the U19 Coxless Four. He was also State Champion in U19 Single Sculls. His leadership really blossomed as a second year Open, and his contribution the team both on and off the water was outstanding.

In your view, when do you see this student most highly engaged? For example, when pursuing academics, a sport, or music, or another passion?

Hayden has been highly engaged in his long-lasting passion for excellence in rowing. He has committed himself to obtaining high standards through extensive voluntary out of season training, and through his leadership within the rowing team. Despite being one of the most talented rowers, he was invariably the first person to help with all the chores around the rowing squad, including boat loading, rigging, tidying up, ensuring the team was ready on time and many other roles that kept the squad working cohesively. While my main contact with Hayden over the years has been through rowing, I have also noted that Hayden has been a diligent student and has always managed his time well in order to study hard while coping with the sometimes extreme time demands that rowing entails.

What would you regard as areas requiring further maturity or development in the candidate?

Hayden can sometimes be almost too focused on his sporting and academic tasks and would benefit from kicking back and relaxing a little more, taking time to enjoy the fun side of life.

Any additional comments you would like to make about the applicant?

Over the years I have been really impressed by Hayden's quiet determination in his pursuit of excellence in his rowing and academic life. He has been a great motivator amongst his peers, and has lead by example. I whole heartedly support Hayden in his application and wish him the very best in his future endeavours.
